About Me

I am a results-oriented Social Media Manager with hands-on experience building and executing digital strategies for leading brands under Clayway Communications. My work focuses on turning insights into high-engagement content systems — especially short-form video and platform-native storytelling — that drive awareness, consideration, and measurable business outcomes.

I approach social media as a performance channel first. Every piece of content is designed with clear intent: hook attention in the first seconds, deliver value, and move the audience closer to action. Whether auditing an existing presence or launching a multi-phase TikTok campaign, I combine strategic thinking with creative execution.

Core Strengths

- Strategic Audits & Gap Analysis — Identifying why content underperforms and redesigning for algorithm-friendly engagement.
- Short-form Video Strategy — Concepting and structuring Reels/TikTok series that solve real-life problems and encourage shares & saves.
- Influencer & Challenge Campaigns — Designing competitive, community-driven formats that generate organic reach and UGC.
- Platform-Native Content — Tailoring formats, tone, and CTAs for Instagram, TikTok, Facebook, and LinkedIn.
- Measurement & Iteration — Defining KPIs across awareness → engagement → consideration → conversion and optimizing in real time.

Experience Snapshot

At Clayway Communications, I have contributed to strategy and content systems for brands including Kia Nepal, Hulas, Bajaj, and Red Bull. Two flagship strategy projects are detailed in the following pages.

Case Study 01 · Kia Nepal

Marketing Audit & High-Engagement Content Strategy

Role: Strategy & Content Framework | Focus: Digital presence, engagement, and lead-generation support

The Challenge

Kia Nepal's digital presence prioritized consistency of posting over performance. Content was largely platform-agnostic, lacked strong interaction hooks, was not optimized for social algorithms, and had not been grounded in clear audience research. The result: limited organic reach, higher cost-per-lead, and missed emotional connection with potential buyers.

Key Gaps Identified

- Same content pushed across all platforms without platform-specific optimization
- Content did not systematically encourage comments, shares, or saves
- Low alignment with what social algorithms currently reward (engagement velocity & depth)
- Absence of clear demographic and audience insight to guide creative and targeting

Strategic Direction

Shift from presence-first to engagement-first content. Make short-form video storytelling the growth engine. Design content that solves real-life problems Nepali drivers face every day, and treat engagement metrics as the primary success signal.

Platform Approach

Instagram	Reels, lifestyle visuals, product moments
Facebook	Community updates, offers, lead forms
TikTok	Relatable, trend-driven short videos
LinkedIn	Brand credibility, corporate & fleet content

Kia Nepal — Content System

Flagship Reel Series: “Kia Ready for Life”

Utility-driven storytelling designed to increase shares and saves. Each reel follows a consistent, high-retention structure.

- Theme: Kia solves real-life car problems
- Tone: Relatable, slightly dramatic, fun
- Format: Split-screen comparison
- Duration: 15–20 seconds
- Signature close: “Kia. Ready for Life.”

Example Scenarios

- City parking — Kia Sonet handles tight spaces with ease
- Heavy rain drive — Kia stays stable and safe
- Family outing — Kia Carens fits family and luggage comfortably
- Highway trip — Kia Seltos delivers stress-free cruising
- Village roads — Kia navigates narrow and muddy paths

Creative Best Practices

- Open with a strong problem hook in the first 2 seconds
- Use clear on-screen text for silent viewers
- Keep visuals simple, authentic, and relatable
- End every reel with the same brand line for recognition

Measurement Framework

Stage	Primary Metrics
Awareness	Reach, Video Views
Engagement	Likes, Comments, Shares, Saves
Consideration	CTR, Leads
Conversion	Test-drive bookings, Cost per Lead

3-Month Execution Roadmap

- Month 1: Research, planning, and launch of the “Kia Ready for Life” reel series
- Month 2: Scale top-performing content formats and begin controlled ad tests
- Month 3: Optimize creatives and shift focus to lead-generation campaigns

Outcome intent: Position Kia as part of everyday Nepali life — not just another product — while building a scalable, algorithm-aligned content engine that supports both brand growth and sales activity.

Case Study 02 · Hulas Foods

45-Day TikTok Campaign

Role: Campaign Concept & Strategy | Brand: Hulas | Platform focus: TikTok

In a crowded food category, distinctive brands still struggle for attention. Hulas needed a high-velocity way to break through, generate conversation, and convert attention into sales. TikTok's trend culture and creative influencer formats offered the ideal environment.

Campaign Architecture — Three Sequential Phases

Phase I · 15-Day TikTok Plating Challenge

Influencers compete to grow with Hulas. Niche plating creators with strong TikTok presence produce regular content using Hulas products, showcasing creative food presentation. Community voting determines the best plating style. Winner receives premium Hulas hampers. Content is amplified through PR channels (including Yellow TV interviews) and cross-platform promotion for maximum reach.

Phase II · 15-Day Funniest Hook Challenge

A tightly structured series of daily humorous, unexpected product reveals designed to break the scroll. Surprise hooks trigger curiosity and instant interaction. Consistent tone, timing, and visual flair build daily momentum and turn laughter into brand curiosity and likes.

Phase III · 15-Day TikTok Sales Boost

Limited-time retailer incentives and aligned short-form content convert the attention built in the first 30 days into immediate purchase actions. Content drives traffic to active promotions while measurable targets and incentives keep retail partners pushing Hulas at the point of sale.

Why This Structure Works

- Builds awareness and UGC through competition (Phase I)
- Creates daily habit and viral potential through humor & surprise (Phase II)
- Closes the loop with commercial activation and retailer alignment (Phase III)
- Keeps the brand top-of-mind for 45 continuous days while progressively shifting the goal from attention → engagement → sales

Additional Brand Experience

Under Clayway Communications I have also contributed to social and campaign work for other notable brands:

Bajaj	Red Bull
Motorcycle & mobility brand activations, event backdrops, and social content support including Dominar-related campaigns.	High-energy lifestyle and event-linked content aligned with Red Bull's global brand language adapted for the Nepali market.

Skills & Tools

■ Social Media Strategy & Audits	■ Platform Algorithm Literacy
■ Content Pillars & Calendars	■ Hook Writing & Storyboarding
■ Short-form Video Concepts (Reels / TikTok)	■ Cross-platform Adaptation
■ Influencer Campaign Design	■ Campaign Phasing & Sequencing
■ Community Management Principles	■ Basic Creative Direction
■ Performance Reporting & KPI Tracking	■ Canva / Presentation Tools

Creative Side · Videography Enthusiast

Beyond strategy, I actively explore visual storytelling as a videography enthusiast. My personal creative page serves as a playground for short-form video, composition, and narrative experiments that continuously sharpen my eye for what stops the scroll.

What I Bring to a Team

- A clear bias toward content that performs, not just content that looks good
- Ability to translate brand problems into platform-native creative solutions
- Comfort working across strategy, concepting, and light creative direction
- Understanding of both organic growth mechanics and paid amplification
- Collaborative mindset shaped by agency experience at Clayway Communications

Let's Build Something That Performs

I'm open to social media management, content strategy, and campaign roles where strategy and creative execution meet. If you are looking for someone who can audit, ideate, and deliver engagement-first systems — let's talk.
